BEGINING OF THE ACADEMIC YEAR...

Whats new at Chiranthana?

We started this academic year with a bang with the grand opening of Aase retail store on the 3rd of June 2023. This store will provide employment opportunities to people with special needs wherein the products are created and sold by people with special needs. The store was inaugurated by Mr. Kiran. D.M. Sousherpa, Civil 20 and Senior consultant at National commission for Scheduled Tribes. The opening of the store saw a lot of footfalls and good sales.

Orders galore at Chiranthana

We have executed many orders for various events through the month, be it festive velvet potli's or crochet toys for our clients, and embroidered pouches for the retail store, its been a busy month. Our students have executed an order for a birthday event with hand painted pouches stitched in our Gubbi unit.

Admissions at Chiranthana

This year we have doubled up our admissions. We are pleased to welcome new students and parents to Chiranthana family.

Congratulations

Namratha and Binitha have passed the NIOS Secondary and Senior Secondary exams with flying colours. We at Chiranthana are proud of our students' achievements.

Training programme at Chiranthana

Our founder Rachana Prasad conducted a training programme on inclusion and disability for special educators and volunteers at Chiranthana. She stressed on the need to understand the disability sector and provided valuable insights on working with special people.

Our new team

Chiranthana welcomes the new team members, Special Educators Raksha Bhanuprakash and Arpitha Dharmappa. Both of them have vast experience and have extensively worked with special needs people. We are pleased to announce the addition of our Music teacher, composer and music director and RJ Mr.Sudheendra to our team. We also welcome our Physiotherapist Elizabeth Jasmine.

Volunteer support

We are extremely thankful to our dynamic team of volunteers who are helping our students. We welcome our students Archana, Vasumathi, Padmaja, Asha and Shiny for support.

Congratulations Vishruth

Star of the month

Vishruth is the star of the month . He has been diligent in his studies, has performed well in computer skills and has also participated in all other activities held at Chiranthana.
